MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OR PLAN OF OPERATIONS

AS OF MARCH 31, 2023

Broad markets delivered positive returns for the quarter despite turmoil in the banking sector and additional interest rate hikes from developed central banks. Global markets started the year strong driven by optimism from China's economic reopening. In March, the failure of Silicon Valley Bank followed by the acquisition of Credit Suisse drove markets to sell off and prompted fears of contagion across global markets. Central banks swiftly took action and provided support and liquidity to the troubled banks. Investor concerns eased and equity markets recovered towards the latter part of the quarter. During its March Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting, the Federal Reserve opted to hike rates by another 25 basis points, citing the continued need to cool inflation even as the new challenge of maintaining financial stability emerged. Both US CPI and employment data released during the month continued to support the case for further policy tightening.

The fund has a share price of 42.0678, with a YTD total return of -0.61% as of end March 2023.

AS OF DECEMBER 31, 2022

The U.S. economy grew by 2.1% in 2022, down from the 5.9% logged in 2021. GDP growth eased as spending was hampered by the Federal Reserve’s fastest monetary policy tightening cycle since the 1980s. Coming from the low-rate environment in 2021, US inflation soared in 2022, peaking at 9.1% YoY in the month of June. Price pressures were exacerbated by Russia’s invasion of Ukraine, which compounded existing supply chain bottlenecks. Consequently, the Fed hiked rates seven times beginning March 2022, for a total of 425 basis points for the year. For the period, the 10-year U.S. Treasury yield rose by about 236 basis points, closing at 3.87% as of December 31, 2022. Meanwhile, the 2-year U.S. Treasury yield rose by about 369 basis points to close at 4.43%.

Global markets continued to be under pressure and remained volatile for the whole year, as the aggressive monetary policies of central banks and elevated levels of inflation weighed on the economic outlook. Despite the positive sentiment from China’s reopening towards the latter part of 2022, the S&P 500 declined by 18.13% for the year. The Dow Jones Industrial Average and the NASDAQ Composite also declined by 6.86% and 32.8%, respectively.

In the Eurozone, economic activity also eased as the region grew 3.5% in 2022, slower than the 5.4% seen in 2021. In line with other major economies, the Eurozone’s inflation jumped by 8.4% on average in 2022, after peaking at 10.6% YoY in October. Consequently, the European Central Bank raised benchmark rates by 200 basis points for the year. In 2022, the yield on the 10-year Bund rose by about 275 basis points to close at 2.57%.

With strong consumer demand and low interest rates, U.S. consumer prices soared in 2021 and by the most in nearly four decades.
